MASTER OF SCIENCE IN ACCOUNTING

INCREASE YOUR EARNING POTENTIAL

Offered 100% Online & On Campus

If you want to increase your earning potential while learning a variety of skills that will help transition to a career in accounting, a UST Master of Science in Accounting (MSA) can make all the difference. The MSA program is targeted for students who do not have an accounting background, but wish to pursue accounting as a career.

A campus centrally located in Houston, connections to top industry professionals and access to experienced faculty make UST one of the best decisions you can make for your future.

With flexible evening classes and accelerated summer sessions, you can pursue an MSA without sacrificing your professional responsibilities. A UST Master of Science in Accounting opens up a world of opportunities in public accounting (as a CPA), forensic accounting, corporate accounting, governmental accounting, and not-for-profit accounting.
